Science of Remote viewing (Ch 10)

- Remote Viewing with Russell Targ – Posted Jan 2011
What do the healer, the mystic, the psychic and the spy all have in common? They are all in touch with their non-local mind and our community of spirit. During the 1970s and 1980s, Stanford Research Institute (SRI) carried out investigations of our ability to experience and describe distant events blocked from our ordinary perception. This intuitive capacity was named “remote viewing”. The research was supported by the CIA and many other government organizations for gathering intelligence about worldwide activities during the Cold War.
